2. Here you'll find entertainment for both old and new. They host concerts and event and weddings too!
3. If it's the history of Ellis County and the Volga Germans you seek; stop by, come inside, and take a peek.
4. Originally named Academic Hall, this campus building is the oldest of them all.
5. Close to the highway is where this building rests. Visit this rotunda to see fossils from the Midwest.
6. People today go there for new burgers and beer but back in the day you'd find attendants pumping gas with cheer.
7. Today it stands empty but only for a while. It used to house nails, screws, and hammers, and even some files.
8. The WPA built this city building in 1942. They used marble, and granite, and limestone too!
9. This one-room Haus is a part of Ellis County's cultural heritage, check it out to increase your Volga-German knowledge.
10. Around this post people like General Custer or Buffalo Bill would walk, oh man, if only these limestone walls could talk.
